

Southeast Michigan Office Loan Officer Jack Johnson

Jack Johnson

The southeast side of Michigan has always been popular with festivals, museums and art fairs with one of the largest located in the heart of downtown Ann Arbor. Some of the nation's best historical museums are in the Detroit area such as Hitsville U.S.A. (The Motown Museum), The Detroit Institute of Arts, The Henry Ford and Greenfield Village just to name a few. These sites draw in visitors from all around creating a variety of opportunities for small businesses such as restaurants, food trucks, artists, crafters and many more.

One of Michigan's Best Hospitals, the University of Michigan Health System with several satellite facilities located all across southeast Michigan generates jobs for many young professionals. Where there's workers, there's small businesses such as drugstores, health and wellness clinics and restaurants boosting the economy and creating more jobs through the multiplier effect.

There are more small business opportunities for the southeast area of the state than anywhere else. No one knows this better than Detroit native MCDc Senior Loan Officer Jack Johnson. Supporting Jack is Michigan's #1 SBA Team who know the loan programs and handle the production. Jack focuses on the lending partner and borrower while his well-oiled team does the rest. Jack has worked with the SBA 504 Loan Program for more than 25-years and has an immense knowledge in commercial loan portfolio management. To learn more about Jack, check out our interview in the October 2021 Newsletter.
